

Linn County Parks launches new summer newsletter

ALBANY — The Linn County Parks & Recreation Department has launched its first issue of a summer newsletter, according to Parks Director Brian Carroll.

The newsletter will be distributed electronically to more than 8,000 families that have used the parks campgrounds over the years, as well as be posted on the department's website <https://linnparks.com/>.

The newsletter will be published in the months of May, June, July, August and September, Carroll said.

“We hope the newsletter will be a good communications link to Linn County's parks visitors,” Carroll said. “Providing visitors with the opportunity to learn about park improvements and operational changes is important to us.”

It will feature columns by Carroll and operations supervisor Tristan Davis, as well as a monthly feature about a parks department employee and stories and photos about current and upcoming parks projects and a Campfire Cookin' recipe.

Readers are encouraged to take part in an online customer satisfaction survey as well.

Carroll added, “I am looking forward to hearing from visitors about how Linn County Parks can continue to provide a positive recreational experience for them.”

Families that would like to have the newsletter emailed to them may contact Alex Paul, Linn County Communications Officer at 541-967-3825 or email apaul@co.linn.or.us.
